

How do we prepare children to become digital citizens?

When the children are the 'experts' and the adults need to facilitate with confidence.

 excite-ed trains teachers and support staff to harness the power of technology in their hands.

 excite-ed offer an easy way in to keep up with children's use of digital literacy and social media through online game design training.

Play games, test resources, see if it will work for you in your school and computing curriculum.

A 3 hour session to realise you know more than you think you do.

Who is this suitable for?

-  Teachers passionate about digital media
-  Teachers interested in digital technology
-  ICT teachers and co-ordinators
-  Those who don't have a clue but need to
